Advertisers are cordially invited to visit our press and mailing rooms at all times and verify the above statement.

In one of Edward Gibson's newly published letters occur the following beautiful words: "Blessings on the man (his name is now buried in oblivion) who first invented the loud trumpet of advertisement!" And surely if the man who first invented sleep deserves the blessings of his kind, not less worthy of his blessings is the man who first saw the way to rouse the slumbering and awaken human energies to their highest possibilities. The trumpet of publicity is never so useful as in the spring time; and now is the time to use the March winds as wings to bear its ringing notes afar.

City Brevities

Hon. John W. Mason, ex-Commissioner of Internal Revenue, is in the city, a guest at the National Hotel.

Gen. William O. Rorison, of Boston, the secretary of the National Republican committee, left this city for his home yesterday.

A divorce from Jane Amelia Briscoe was granted to Arthur Briscoe today on the ground of desertion. Justice Hagner signed the decree.

Workmen this morning completed the removal of the board awnings erected at the entrance of the Pension Office for the inaugural ball.

Mrs. and Miss Blackburn have left the city for their home in Versailles, Ky., where they will be joined by Senator Blackburn in a few days.

Representative and Mrs. Doremus removed yesterday from Willard's to their private residence, No. 1406 Stoughton street northwest.

An overhauled move in the saloon of Frederick Albert, No. 219 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, has caused a blaze and did $5 damage last evening.

All public observation stands erected for the inaugural occasion must be removed from the sidewalks by tomorrow evening, by order of the Commissioners.

John Howard, a painter, fell from his ladder, while coloring a house on Florida avenue, yesterday, and was deluged with yellow paint and painfully bruised.

Police Lieut. Vernon reported to headquarters today that there is a lock-down to business and pedestrians at Seventh street and Virginia avenue southwest.

Policeman J. W. Robertson, of the bicycle squad, arrested David Smith, eighteen years of age, last night in St. Louis, Washington for failing to have a light on his wheel.

The Capitol Vista, a monthly paper, made its first appearance on March 1 and reflects great credit upon its young editor, Miss Sarah Willard Howe, of Brookland, D. C.

Robert C. Bruce, of Atlanta, Ga., who was on time connected with the Southern railway in Washington, returned home yesterday, after a brief visit to friends in the city.

Mr. J. E. Williams, who was injured about two weeks ago by a fall from his bicycle, was able to resume his duties at the Treasury Department yesterday morning.

Mr. J. C. Jenkins, a prominent member of the Atlanta bar, is a guest at the Wellington. Mr. Jenkins attended college in Washington and has many warm personal friends here.

The case of Major Eugene Speer, of the Second Auditor's Office, who stabbed William Callow, a Seventeenth street sign dealer, about three weeks ago, has been set for trial tomorrow.

Hon. P. C. Cheney, member of the Republican national committee from New Hampshire, returned to his home last night, after a brief stay in the city to witness the inaugural ceremonies.

The white setter, Nell Hunter, belonging to George L. Harris, of this city, will be exhibited at the Bullimore dog show. Nell took second prize in the novice and third in the open class of the New York show.

Major Moore has completed his list of instructions to the police with reference to the taking of the police census of the city, and it is now in the hands of the printer. The census will be taken April 1 next.

Special Policeman Bryan found the front door of the Warwick bicycle establishment, No. 1105 Fourteenth street north west, open at 12:30 o'clock this morning. The owner was notified and secured the door, nothing missing.

The chemical society of Washington will hold its regular meeting Thursday night at the Cosmos Club, when communications are expected from Messrs. Wirt Tassin, D. J. Kelly, W. H. King, and J. E. Blomen.

Lizzie Washington, colored, was taken suddenly and seriously ill last evening at the corner of Twenty-second street and Pennsylvania avenue. The Third precinct patrol wagon removed her to her home, No. 17 Pierce street northwest.

Photographs of the crooks captured here during the inauguration will be furnished for the regatta galleries of other cities by Inspector Hollister, provided the authorities of those places who desire them pay the cost of the photographer.

While trying to alight from a cable car near the Peace monument this afternoon Charles A. Moore, an elderly man, fell on the slippery concrete and was painfully injured about the back and shoulders. He was assisted to his home, No. 313 E street, by friends.

A horse, belonging to Charles Raney, of Alexandria, ran away about 7 o'clock last night near the market, and Mr. Raney was thrown from his wagon, when the animal kicked him and broke his leg. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital, where Dr. Lawrence reduced the fracture.

It is an amazing fact that the American Cereal Co. is engaged in distributing one million free sample packages of their famous cereal food, Quaker Oats. As each sample given away is sufficient for a breakfast for four or five persons, it follows that between four and five million people will enjoy The American Cereal Company's unique hospitality. As shown every one testing Quaker Oats becomes a regular purchaser of it, there is little room for doubt as to the result of the enterprise.

UNCLE SAM IN THE FIGHT

United States Marshal Interferes at Carson City.

THE WEATHER IS EXERCABLE

Much Sickness Prevails in the Valley—Residents Say That a Strange Atmospheric Disturbance is Prevalent in Their Section—No Truth in Rumors of Dissipation.

Carson City, Nevada, March 9.—There is a big row on between the prize fighting promoters and the United States officials here. The disagreement seems to be due to an inability of the officials to collect money due from the Stuart people. There was some talk of an injunction against the prize fighting promoters, but it is not thought that such a step will be taken unless the official, who is said, cannot collect his money, changes his present intention. United States Marshal Humphreys said yesterday afternoon:

"The national government can do nothing to stop the fight. We have had several talks with the prize-fight promoters, but I cannot divulge their significance. The whole thing will come out tomorrow. It is nothing, however, that will stop the fight."

Referee George Siler drove over to Corbett's yesterday, and while standing in the handball court he was confronted by one of Corbett's handball players, who was running hard to reach a ball the pugilist had just struck. Siler, who has lately been sick, was jolted heavily in the stomach and sustained a blow on the head, where after treatment he recovered somewhat, although late in the evening a recurrence of the pain came. Siler was not seriously disabled by the accident, but he will be likely to be in a rather crippled condition for a few days.

Three more strangers are in town and 200 of them are sick. For the past fortnight nothing has come into the valley except visitors or a snowstorm. The peaks encircling the Carson Valley are choked in crystals. There are people in Carson who declare that this is a strange atmospheric disturbance. But others declare that this sort of weather is a regular thing to Carson Valley at this time of the year. There's pneumonia on every corner and consumption on the hills.

Few strangers came to town yesterday. Those who did come through the snow to the hotel were men who have a commercial expression. The foremen of the freacas are beginning to arrive in volume. Already there are about forty newspaper correspondents present. So far as the actual events concerned, not a thing worth the telegraph tolls has occurred since the arrival of the pugilists. The fighting men, for proof of which they were taken the avowed declaration of Referee and Correspondent George Siler, fully backed up and supported by the unanimous vote of other writers of fight matters. An occasional derisive rumor to the effect of one of the pugilists being howling drunk, or the other suffering from a cold, or the fact that Jim lost his temper, and the admires of the Cornishman contend that if he does the same thing this time it will be all up with him.

One of the clerical force of the principal hotel gave the assurance to an inquirer yesterday that he could get a game at almost any hour of the day, and that it was especially fatigued, a nice little all-the-year-around proposition was in effect in one of the rooms of the hotel itself. Almost every saloon and of these there are many—has a new sign upon it—a neat little sign painted in red, and the inscription is "Clubroom." The sign is a violation to the police, and the sign is a violation to the police, and the sign is a violation to the police.

Stuart's clerks are dishing out tickets as fast as they can, and with the light but eight days off it looks now as though the big Texan was going to have his arena filled to the limit. The Texan has sent out through the press, signed by Mayor Yerrington, in which the citizens of the town disavowed any intention to charge exhibitors for provender and shelter has had a reassuring effect, and telegrams and letters by the sack asking for reservations came in by every mail yesterday. The excitement and the use of a reasonable storm here has spent its fury and yesterday afternoon the streets were crowded with men and women in light attire.

BETTING ON THE RESULT.

FAY'S FRIENDS THINK HE WILL BECOME THE FAVORITE.

New York, March 8.—Speculative sportmen, who have summed up the approaching contest between Corbett and Fitzsimmons from a pecuniary point of view, are now inclined to believe that the present is the best time to place bets. Instead of waiting until a few days before the fight. This is the case especially on the part of the followers of Fitzsimmons, who, despite the probability of Corbett's injury, are betting before the bill comes off, content that things may shape themselves so as to place Fitzsimmons as the favorite by the time the fight comes off.

Bad dreams are one symptom of ill health. People generally treat such matters lightly. They believe that they are caused by the eating of something indigestible, and that this is a small matter. Perhaps sometimes it may be. The most horrible dreams are, however, due to affections of the nerves. Irritated, tired, worn out nerves are one of the chief causes of indigestion. More than that, they are a continual strain and drain on the brain. They are suppling the vitality of the brain every instant in the day. By the time night comes, the brain is too tired to rest. It is an unnatural condition of fatigue. The little worries and irritations of the day find repetition at night in the form of dirty, muddy water, filled with slimy, crawling things, forcing their way into the nostrils, and the sufferer finds himself wide awake, sitting up in his bed, with sleep banished for that night. That is nervousness, perhaps caused by, or causing, indigestion, and producing insomnia—sleeplessness. It doesn't take a long time to wear out with that sort of work. The day after a night full of horrible dreams is not likely to be a good day for business. A man's work for that day is not likely to be very valuable—nor the woman's either.

There is a cure for bad dreams, sleeplessness, indigestion, brain fatigue, and debility. Its name—"The Golden Medical Discovery," called so because its discoverer knew that it was more valuable to the world than the discovery of gold in California, or Australia, or Africa. It makes what is far more precious than the finest gold—good health. It purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, and invigorates the action of every organ in the body, and produces firm, solid, healthy flesh. It will fill out the cheeks, hollows of bloodless, pale women and nerveless, lifeless men. It is sold by druggists, and there is nothing "just as good."

time the wiseness of pugilism get a chance to step up the boxers personally.

Only a few occasions since 1880 when a man has appeared in the ring in this country has been the favorite before the fight. This was in his fight with Sharkey and the last battle with Peter Maher. As he is always in good condition whenever he fights the sportsman fancy that the tables may turn this time, and that he will enter the ring on St. Patrick's day on an odds-on favorite. At least this was the impression yesterday, and the sports who have remained under cover all along came out and backed him. Fred Tard, who had held out for 2 to 4, compromised at 10 to 8.

He says he will wager $2,000 more on the champion at these odds. Jimmy Hayes also was willing to snap at several offers of even money on Corbett, and invested several hundred dollars. Ed Nail wagered $800 to $1,000 with a local sport on Fitzsimmons, and says he is ready to speculate more at the same price. Joe Harris, a noted Jake Shipley, the bookmaker, to back Fitzsimmons for him to the extent of $200. Harris declares that he got good odds.

There is a quiet tug going the rounds that Corbett intends to force the fighting Fitzsimmons to retire. If this is true, Bob will certainly win the championship. This kind of fighting. During Corbett's fall with Mitchell it will be remembered that Jim lost his temper, and the admires of the Cornishman contend that if he does the same thing this time it will be all up with him.

PIGEON MATCH PROBABLY OFF.

Sportsmen Opposed to Any Other Attractions at Carson City.

San Francisco, March 9.—Ned Fay, a prominent local sportsman, is of the opinion that there will not be a pigeon shooting tournament held in Carson in conjunction with the big prize fight. Mr. Fay said yesterday that he had received an order from Stuart to purchase several dozen of the best pigeons he could find in the city and ship them to Carson.

Fay replied that the sportsmen of San Francisco did not approve of a pigeon tournament being held at Carson at the time in which prize fighting will reign supreme. He said that the sportsmen recommended the postponement of the trap-shooting events until May or June, when an event of that kind can be carried off successfully. Mr. Fay will not purchase goods for the shoot until he receives an answer to his letter.

WANT TO SEE SHARKEY.

The Bohemian Club of New York Makes an Offer to Lynch.

San Francisco, March 9.—Dan Lynch, the manager of Tom Sharkey, yesterday received the following offer from the Bohemian Athletic Club of New York:

"If you are going to match Sharkey and Maher, I would like to make you a proposition for the match. I will be in a position to pull the fight off the latter part of May. If you will sign with me and fight in May, I will give you a purse of $10,000. If I will give you to accept this purse, I will send you on articles at once, and close the deal with you, that is, providing I can get Peter Maher."

W. J. NEWMAN.

Lynch will probably give his acceptance of this offer in a day or two.

SMITH WON'T BET A DOLLAR.

Stakeholder of the Big Fight Now in Frisco.

San Francisco, March 9.—Carrying with him the coveted sack containing $30,000, the ownership of which Corbett and Fitzsimmons are preparing themselves to contest, Al Smith, stakeholder and stake, left yesterday for the big fight, arrived in the city last night.

Smith said that he did not care to express any opinion about the fight, on which he had not and did not intend to bet a dollar. He will remain in San Francisco until Friday, when he goes to Carson, where he will remain until after the fight.

He Has Several Fighters Whom He Will Back for Fights.

Chicago, March 9.—"Parson" Davies arrived in Chicago yesterday and left at 10 o'clock at night for Cripple Creek, where, tomorrow, Harry and Armstrong will give a sparring exhibition. Thence the party will go on to Carson.

Davies is ready to match any one of his three fighters, Chozmek being the third, at almost any kind of a game. "Mitchell," he said, "is out again to fight Corbett or Fitzsimmons for $10,000. I will insure him an easier game, sending him to the front, and betting Mitchell $10,000 to $5,000."

John L. Sullivan, he said, was in earnest as to challenging the winner at Carson.

The Time Will Come

When Derelicts Must Pay the Penalty for Neglecting a Plain Duty.

Every year thousands die from carelessness, thousands more die from ignorance. Men and women presume upon good conditions, flattering themselves that they have no diseases. They do not comprehend the importance of apparently trivial symptoms, which are warnings of failing health. Many men suffer from nervous debility, impaired memory, low spirits, and the various derangements of mind and body which result from a balance contracted in youth, or to late excesses, resulting in weakness, and not infrequently in softening of the brain, epilepsy, paralysis, and even insanity. To reach and reclaim these victims, Dr. Young has discovered a simple, and has been the means of restoring hundreds of them to health, manhood, and vigor.
